

January 1, 2006

updated 06/30/06

To: Interlab Customers
From: Interlab, Inc.
Re: Software License Compliance

Dear Valued Customer,

Interlab, Inc. packages and sells systems and servers that may contain open-source software. In accordance with the licensing requirements as stipulated by the copyright holders of the various open-source software that we sometimes utilize, we are providing you with a list of software and links to the source code and downloadable software that may be in use in our systems and servers.

In addition to any open-source software that may be utilized in our systems and servers, Interlab, Inc. may also have provided custom software owned by Interlab, Inc. and licensed to you through our standard license agreement as posted on our web site: <http://www.interlab.com/licence.htm>

In all cases, our standard license agreement applies to all systems, servers, and custom software provided by us to any customer.

This list represents all of the foundational software we utilize in many different systems, so your specific system may or may not utilize any or all of the listed software. This document is subject to change at any time, with no liability therefore. For an updated document, please contact us at info@interlab.com.

Fedora Core 4 Operating System:	http://www.redhat.com/fedora/
Apache Tomcat:	http://tomcat.apache.org/
Sun Java:	http://java.sun.com/
Pure FTP:	http://www.pureftpd.org/project/pure-ftp/
MySQL Database Engine:	http://dev.mysql.com/
Digium Telephony Hardware and Drivers:	http://www.asterisk.org/
Asterisk Open Source PBX:	http://www.asterisk.org/
PERL DBD and DBI MySQL interface and drivers:	http://dbi.perl.org/
HTML2PS Conversion Utility:	http://user.it.uu.se/~jan/html2ps.html